GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE

1. Existing Facilities: The GPO Building possibly available in the future is GSA owned. It is a 9-floor red brick building located in Washington on a square block on North Capitol Street near the Union Station. GPO's building plans for the future are very indefinite. Any departure from this site as a result of new construction would also be indefinite.

2. Construction: There is no space for additional new construction.

3. Considerations:

a. Commercial parking is available with very limited "Free Parking".

b. A GSI cafeteria is not available, but GPO personnel contract for their own; commercial eating facilities are nearby.

c. Commercial transportation is available.

d. Utilities are plentiful.

e. Internal security would not be a problem nor would

25X1C

4. Advantages:

a. Close proximity to other Agency buildings.

b. The building is constructed to support heavy equipment.

5. Disadvantages (Limitations):

A limitation is the age of the building, and construction and utilities are deteriorating.
